

Be a Hotdogger

Want a job you can relish?

Do you have an appetite for adventure, a friendly personality and boundless enthusiasm? Do you want to represent the Oscar Mayer brand as a goodwill ambassador through radio and television appearances, newspaper interviews, grocery store and military visits, and charity functions? Do you want to meet and greet people from coast to coast? Do you want to work in your own traveling public relations firm, organizing promotions and pitching TV, radio and print media? If the answer is “Yes”, you could qualify to be an official Oscar Mayer Hotdogger.

We are currently accepting resumes through January 31st for a one-year Hotdogger position beginning in June. Applicants should have a BA or BS, preferably in public relations, journalism, communications, advertising, or marketing, though applicants are not limited to these degrees. The position is 100% travel. Habla Español? Bilingual candidates are encouraged to apply.

The condiments:

- Competitive salary, plus expenses, benefits and clothing
- Opportunity to work in a traveling public relations firm
- Experience in a self-managed position with many responsibilities
- A company car guaranteed to turn heads

Do you cut the mustard?

If you're an outgoing, creative, friendly, enthusiastic, college graduate with a big appetite for adventure send your resume to:
